Bowhunters Creed

- 1 A KBA bowhunter is loyal to the Kentucky Bowhunters Association and to the principles, creed, and ethics for which it stands.
- 2 A KBA bowhunter's major bow interest is in bowhunting and other sporting interests are secondary. He strives to upgrade the type of equipment used and to raise the status and ethics of those engaged in the sport. He defends it staunchly.
- 3 A KBA bowhunter uses only equipment of adequate power and construction guaranteeing a good chance of quick, clean kill and lessening the likelihood of wounded, unrecovered game. His bows are above 40 pound standard draw and his broadheads
- 4 A KBA bowhunter knows his own and his equipments capabilities and limitations. He never shoots recklessly, at random, or at unidentified objects or at game atdistances or under circumstances not conducive to his making a quick, clean kill. He searche long and diligently to recover any wounded game.
- 5 A KBA bowhunter makes a study of the habits, traits, and range of the game that he hunts. He enjoys the challenge of hunting stalking the game on its own ground or near equal terms, the lore of the woods, water, and wildlife, the serene silence of the the comfort of the campfire, and the lonely hoot of the owl. These experiences overshadow the thrill of actually bagging of gam
- 6 A KBA bowhunter is a true sportsman. He obeys the rules of his sport and the laws, which perpetuate wildlife, and he will not knowingly hunt with anyone who violates or flaunts them. He takes advantage of no one; he respects the landowner's rights and the just aspirations of other hunters. He is different; he is the cream of sportsmen -- HE IS A BOWHUNTER.
